INTERNATIONAL STUDENT AI INFLUENCER

AI-powered multi-agent pipeline for civic awareness and social media content

Course: Gen AI & Social Media

Team: Shivani Kabra, Kulbir Kaur, Melisa Lee, Joaquin Sardon, Gerald Velasquez

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS NEED INFORMATION, BUT THE SYSTEM IS FRAGMENTED

- International students face confusing questions around housing, jobs, taxes, immigration, banking, safety, and city services.
- Our prototype focuses on NYC because it connects to NYC Open Data and NYC-specific resources.
- But the problem is not limited to NYC: international students in many cities face the same information gap.
- The system is designed as a reusable AI pipeline: by changing the data connectors, the same workflow could support other cities or universities.

HOW THE APP WORKS

1. Choose audience
Persona, segment, tone, CTA style

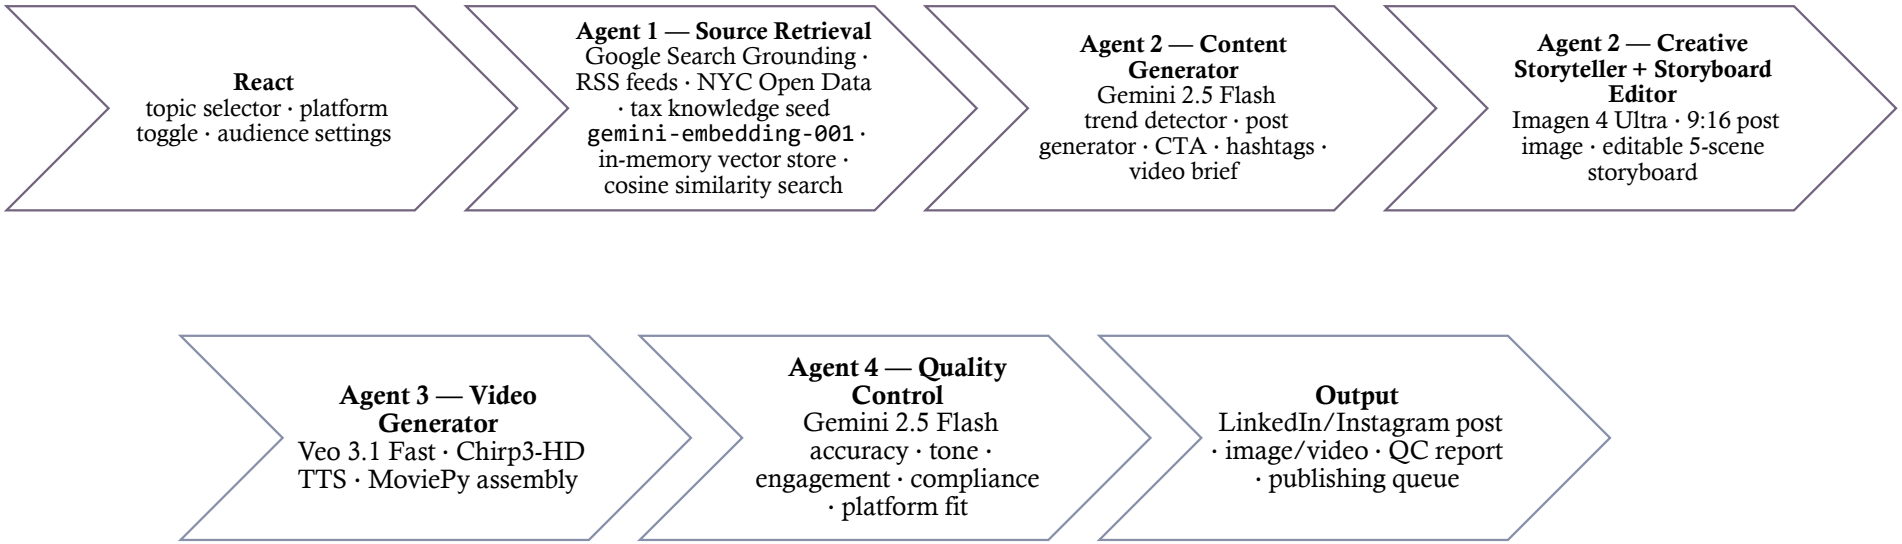
2. Find data & detect trends
NYC Open Data + RSS + web

3. Generate post
Platform-specific caption and CTA

4. Create visual/video asset
Imagen, Veo, TTS, storyboard

5. Save to publishing queue
Draft, review, manual/local publish

SYSTEM ARCHITECTURE



AI CAN CREATE CONTENT FAST, BUT TRUST CANNOT BE AUTOMATED

The app is strongest at turning scattered information into clear posts. But for civic topics, polished content is not enough.

Main risks:

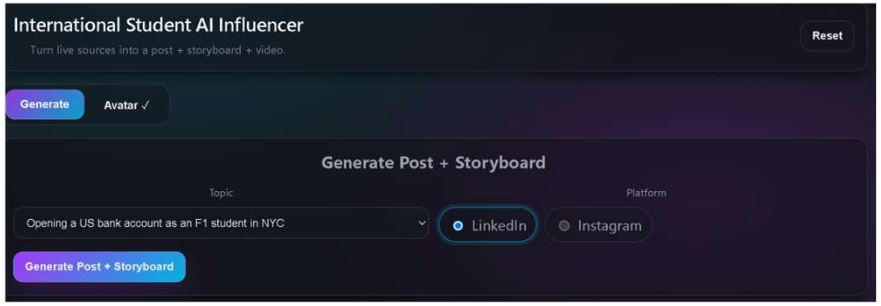
- Wrong or outdated information
- Overgeneralizing student problems
- Giving advice on sensitive topics like housing, safety, or immigration
- Visuals that look credible but are too generic

NEXT: RELIABILITY + GUARDRAILS (TRUST-READY MVP)

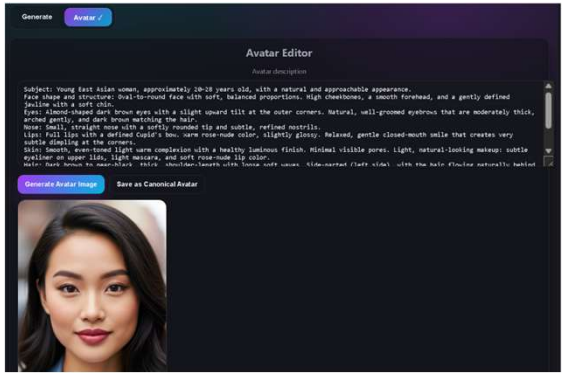
To move beyond, we would add:

- Source citations inside every post draft
- Human approval before publishing
- Testing with real international students
- Better filters for sensitive topics
- Expansion to TikTok, WhatsApp, and newsletters

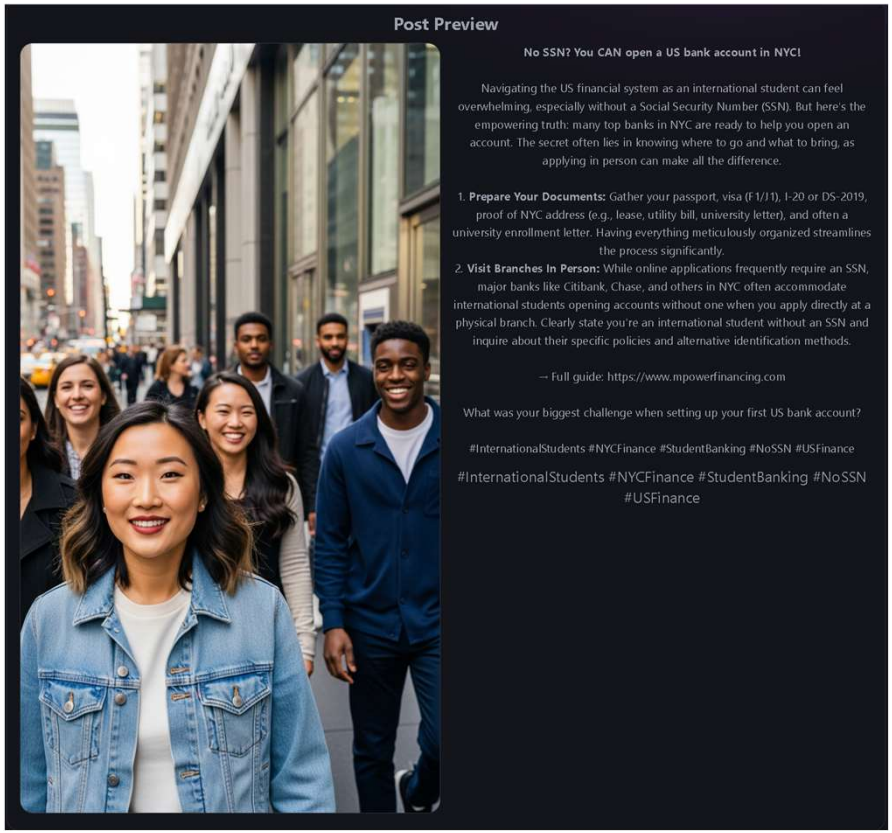
DEMO



International Student AI Influencer
Turn live sources into a post + storyboard + video.
Reset
Generate
Avatar ✓
Generate Post + Storyboard
Topic
Platform
Opening a US bank account as an F1 student in NYC
LinkedIn
Instagram
Generate Post + Storyboard

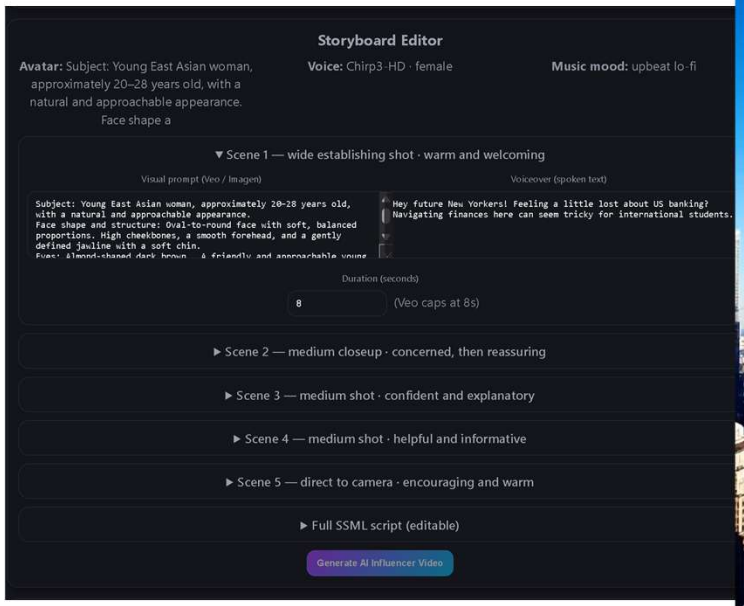


Generate
Avatar ✓
Avatar Editor
Avatar description
Subject: Young East Asian woman, approximately 20-28 years old, with a natural and approachable appearance.
Face shape and structure: Oval-to-round face with soft, balanced proportions. High cheekbones, a smooth forehead, and a gently defined jawline with a soft chin.
Eyes: Almond-shaped dark brown eyes with a slight upward tilt at the outer corners. Natural, well-groomed eyebrows that are moderately thick, arched gently, and dark brown matching the hair.
Nose: Small, straight nose with a softly rounded tip and subtle, refined nostrils.
Lips: Full lips with a defined Cupid's bow. Warm rose-nude color, slightly glossy. Relaxed, gentle closed-mouth smile that creates very subtle dimpling at the corners.
Skin: Smooth, even-toned light warm complexion with a healthy luminous finish. Minimal visible pores. Light, natural-looking makeup: subtle eyeliner on upper lids, light mascara, and soft rose-nude lip color.
Generate Avatar Image
Save as Canonical Avatar



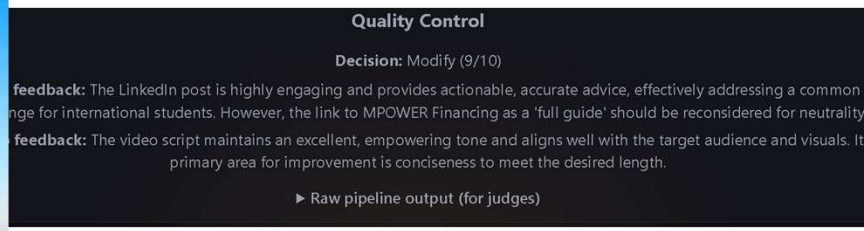
Post Preview
No SSN? You CAN open a US bank account in NYC!
Navigating the US financial system as an international student can feel overwhelming, especially without a Social Security Number (SSN). But here's the empowering truth: many top banks in NYC are ready to help you open an account. The secret often lies in knowing where to go and what to bring, as applying in person can make all the difference.
1. Prepare Your Documents: Gather your passport, visa (F1/J1), I-20 or DS-2019, proof of NYC address (e.g., lease, utility bill, university letter), and often a university enrollment letter. Having everything meticulously organized streamlines the process significantly.
2. Visit Branches In Person: While online applications frequently require an SSN, major banks like Citibank, Chase, and others in NYC often accommodate international students opening accounts without one when you apply directly at a physical branch. Clearly state you're an international student without an SSN and inquire about their specific policies and alternative identification methods.
→ Full guide: https://www.mpowerfinancing.com
What was your biggest challenge when setting up your first US bank account?
#InternationalStudents #NYCFinance #StudentBanking #NoSSN #USFinance
#InternationalStudents #NYCFinance #StudentBanking #NoSSN #USFinance

DEMO



Storyboard Editor
Avatar: Subject: Young East Asian woman, approximately 20–28 years old, with a natural and approachable appearance. Face shape a
Voice: Chirp3-HD · female
Music mood: upbeat lo-fi
▼ Scene 1 — wide establishing shot · warm and welcoming
Visual prompt (Veo / Imagen)
Subject: Young East Asian woman, approximately 20-28 years old, with a natural and approachable appearance.
Face shape and structure: Oval-to-round face with soft, balanced proportions. High cheekbones, a smooth forehead, and a gently defined jawline with a soft chin.
Voiceover (spoken text)
Hey future New Yorkers! Feeling a little lost about US banking? Navigating finances here can seem tricky for international students.
Duration (seconds)
8
(Veo caps at 8s)
▶ Scene 2 — medium closeup · concerned, then reassuring
▶ Scene 3 — medium shot · confident and explanatory
▶ Scene 4 — medium shot · helpful and informative
▶ Scene 5 — direct to camera · encouraging and warm
▶ Full SSML script (editable)
Generate AI Influencer Video

Hey NYC F1 students! Navigating finances here can feel tricky, right?



Quality Control
Decision: Modify (9/10)
feedback: The LinkedIn post is highly engaging and provides actionable, accurate advice, effectively addressing a common nge for international students. However, the link to MPOWER Financing as a 'full guide' should be reconsidered for neutrality feedback: The video script maintains an excellent, empowering tone and aligns well with the target audience and visuals. It primary area for improvement is conciseness to meet the desired length.
▶ Raw pipeline output (for judges)